The annual picnic of the members of Carpenters union No. 515 will be held in Cheyenne park Sunday, June 7. The members of the union are now planning for the picnic which is to be the biggest in the history of the local union, and the biggest ever held at Cheyenne park. Last June the carpenters were the guests of the late W. S. Stratton at the opening of the park and it is the intention of the union to make the picnic an annual event. More than 300 were present last year as the guests of Mr. Stratton, but it is expected that the attendance next month will be even larger as all the carpenters and their friends will be present.

NO TRACE OF CROWELL WHO ESCAPED FROM JAIL

No trace of W. C. Crowell, who escaped from the city jail Tuesday night, has yet been discovered by the police. It is believed by them that he left the city immediately and they say that they are better satisfied with his absence from the city entirely, than with his incarceration in jail. Crowell has been arrested several times for being drunk and the police hope that he will stay away from the city altogether. Nothing was discovered in the jail which would indicate the manner in which he sawed through the bar that opened his way to freedom. This condition makes the suspicions against the pickpockets still stronger. It is more than probable they were provided for the meeting of such an emergency and the fate which was before them was sufficient to warrant an attempt at escape on their part. Their removal to the county jail no doubt interfered with their plans and prevented a wholesale jail break.

THE GRAND JURY.

THE REPORT of the grand jury is worthy of careful perusal. No similar body in recent years has been so diligent, painstaking and fearless. It leaves its work incomplete, for lack of time, but the work which it has done merits the cordial commendation voiced by Judge Cunningham at the close of the term of court.

Judge Cunningham also has rendered signal service to the community by deferring the call of a grand jury until after the spring election, so as to eliminate partisan bias and the ephemeral effect which its disclosures might have upon candidacies for office. Its report comes in the calm after political conflict, and it comes as a crushing arraignment of the maladministration from which this city and our sister city have suffered.

The storekeeper has been conducting his office "without any books," "with scarcely any order or business methods," and "the money of the people has unquestionably been wasted." It recommends that he keep books, boys and accounts, and that the practice of aldermen borrowing or taking at their pleasure the property and supplies of the city for their own personal use, as some of them have been doing, be discontinued."

The late city treasurer has been keeping his books "as the divil wint through Athlone—in staidin' lep"—to quote Mr. Mulvany. He has touched earth about once a month, and in the interval the whole of the city's cash balance might have been in his vest pocket or out at interest for all that anybody knew.

Just before the last November election he drew one thousand dollars from the city funds, which he himself says he was to return during November, but can not show when or how it was returned.

The jury recommends that the city's accounts as to supplies and the like be looked after with "great diligence."

The police management has been deficient. "Citizens and tourists have been habitually plundered and robbed" with the connivance and "protection" of some of the police.

Rooming houses in Colorado Springs well known to be houses of assignation, "could be corrected by proper vigilance" of the police.

Colorado City has been protecting an infamous trade and making money out of it, in a mockery of the forms of law.

These are not catch words from the vaporings of "yellow" journals. They are the sober conclusions of 12 of our citizens, selected by lot, based on the evidence produced before them.

The report points out an ample field for the activities of our new mayor and council, and the people are waiting for the results they expect will follow.

THE DURANGO W.R.

THE DURANGO newspaper editors' war is the natural result of the language employed by these newspaper men in speaking of each other for months past. Durango has had personal journalism with a vengeance. Scarcely an issue of the papers has appeared in the last few months in which one newspaper owner has not blackguarded another, and for several weeks past it has seemed to be only a question of time until he men got to the fighting point.

It is very certain that the people of Durango, and especially the women of Durango, do not care for these gross personalities in journalism. Newspaper subscribers in Colorado Springs, as well as all other cities, are averse to that sort of thing.

Newspaper owners and editors often make the mistake of thinking that their personal quarrels are a matter of deep interest to the public. Quite the contrary is the case. The people pay for news and comment on the news, and not for the personal contentions of the individuals within the newspaper offices.

A Y. M. C. A. CONTEST.

A NOVEL contest is now going forward among the Y. M. C. A. men of this city. Two teams have been picked out, both composed of a group as well as persuasive young men, and each is to make every possible effort to surpass the other in securing new members for the institution. The directors of the association recognise that increased membership will not only be financially valuable, but every new member will be a committee of one to say a good word for the association and possibly secure one or more members himself. That the idea is a good one is evidenced by the fact that although the plan has only been in operation about one week, over 140 new members have already been secured. It is to be hoped that the "teams" will not conclude their efforts until at least 500 new members have been added to the roll.

A LIFE BY SUBTERFUGE.

AN INTERESTING recent literary development is in connection with "The Journal of Arthur Stirling."

This journal purported to be the life story of a struggling young author whose talent had not been recognized and who finally wrote the story of his experiences, sent it to a publisher and thereupon committed suicide.

A great many reviewers were inclined to be skeptical as to the untimely end of the struggler in question. It now appears that their suspicions have been verified, for the author of the book, Upton Sinclair, has written an article for the Independent, in which he makes a defense of the subterfuge employed by him. He says that he has received a sufficient amount of money through the sale of the book to enable him to pursue the literary career for which he thinks he is especially fitted. A VICTORY.

THE PENNSYLVANIA railroad gained a decisive victory on Tuesday in its suit against the Western Union Telegraph company. Incidentally it was another evidence of how judges' minds often disagree, for the case was first decided in favor of the Pennsylvania company, then against it, and once more in its favor.

The decision is of far-reaching importance to the telegraph company. Under a 20-year contract it had maintained its poles and wires along the right of way of the Pennsylvania company. When the contract expired, the Pennsylvania did not propose to renew it, but intended to do business with the Postal. Railroad differences were at the bottom of the fight. The Pennsylvania being at odds with George Gould and his railroads, did not propose to do business with George Gould's telegraph company.

The Western Union company was naturally very much averse to removing the vast amount of property which it owned along this line of railway. The Pennsylvania, however, fought the case as far as the United States court of appeals, where it gained a complete and sweeping victory.

President Palma of Cuba will veto the lottery bill, but there is danger that his veto will be overridden by the Cuban assembly. Palma has been so long in the United States that he takes the generally accepted view that a lottery is a menace to any people and that instead of being coddled it should be banished. It is quite evident, however, that the somewhat loose views upon the subject which prevail in tropical countries are very much in evidence in Cuba.

The Grand Junction farmers candidly admit that the fruit will not be injured by the frost and declare that prospects were never better for an enormous crop of peaches. They haven't yet learned the New Jersey scheme of announcing a failure in order to put up the price.

England has decided to follow the lead of the United States and take the Boxer indemnity upon a silver basis. It will be a good thing for the Chinese and not a bad thing for England. Now let us see what Kaiser Wilhelm is going to do about it.

Day after day the reports made in the Gorny case say the "shortage is being increased." Let us fervently hope that the expert accountant may soon conclude his labors that we may know the worst.

Thirteen hundred slot machines were burned in Philadelphia yesterday by order of the director of public safety. This was one of the few conflagrations that the people of the city could heartily enjoy.

With some heat, the officials who have been accused in Washington declare that the charges are "absurdly false." They may be false, but clearly they are not absurd.

THE APPEAL TO THE MILLINERS.

The success of the Audubon society in inducing the New York milliners not to use song birds for decorative purposes is a matter of congratulation. But it would look less like barbarism if birds of all kinds were covered in the agreement. The ingenuity of the milliner artists could not be better employed than in devising modes of ornament not involving the killing of life.—(Chicago Post.

ONE WAY TO SETTLE THE QUESTION.

Grover Cleveland is, of course, not a candidate "in the usual sense of the term," but if the Democratic nomination for president should get in his way he might pick it up, even against the protest of Hon. William J. Bryan. Then what would Mr. Bryan do about it? It might come to a question as to who is running the Democratic party anyhow. Such a position might hasten the assertion of the majesty of the party organization.—(Cincinnati Enquirer, Dem.

ROOSEVELT'S HOLD ON PUBLIC OFFICE.

President Roosevelt, as is well known, has scarcely been out of public office for so long a time as a month, since the date of his graduation from Harvard college. He has been successively assemblyman at Albany, United States civil service commissioner, police commissioner in New York city, assistant secretary of the navy, governor of New York and vice president. He wanted to be mayor of New York city and was nominated by the Republicans, but was defeated by Abram S. Hewitt. There is no other man in public life who has held so many different offices in so short a time. It was a great joke, therefore, for President Wilson of Princeton university to tell his audience in Chicago the other day that Roosevelt had succeeded because he was a politician who did not want to hold office.—(Hartford Times, Dem.

PAYMENT FOR THE PANAMA CANAL.

Just now an interesting piece of treasury finance is in the payment for the Panama canal and the raising of the money to complete it. So soon as Colombia ratifies the treaty, our government will have to pay ten million dollars to her and 40 million dollars to France. The sudden withdrawal of this amount of gold from the country would be a serious financial shock. The money must be paid on demand. Several treasury warrants will be issued, directing the treasurer of the United States to pay the proper persons 50 million dollars. The receivers of these warrants will turn them over to their New York bankers, who in turn will draw bills of exchange on London banks, and eventually it is proposed that the 50 million dollars will be paid by the export of American goods to Europe, by timing the shipment of 250 ships of grain. The 20 million dollars paid Spain for the Philippines found its way to Madrid in this way without disturbing international finance.—(From "Financing a Nation," in June Success.

NEW THIRD-TERM CLAIMS.

There are signs of a twinkle in the eye of Mr. Cleveland's eye as he talks about the third-term proposal. "If the nomination were tendered me I cannot answer whether I would accept. I would simply be invited to overhaul the censure of the people." Censure for what? For consenting to be a candidate or for declining to be one? It looks as if Mr. Cleveland were setting a good trap of the regulation darkey order—"ter ketch 'im a-goin' and a-comin'."

Meantime ex-Governor Foster of Ohio, who is dabbling from the same boat with the ex-president, arises to remark:

"I am not authorized to speak, but, without betraying a confidence, I can say that Mr. Cleveland does not desire the Democratic presidential nomination, but if won't no doubt take it as a duty to the party which has twice honored him with that great office. To my mind he deserves the nomination, and he has the confidence of the people."

This being Republican testimony may be looked upon with suspicion. We regret to have to record that one of our enthusiastic third-term boomers Mr. Mack of New York state, has received a chill of some sort and is now sitting on the inquirer's bench.—(New York Commercial Advertiser, Rep.

"SENSATIONAL SCIENCE."

Dr. Arthur McDonald, the criminologist attached to the United States bureau of education at Washington, may have done nothing of scientific value, but he knows the value of sensational science. He can cause thrills and shudders, and as an eccentric theorist he has no equal. His latest announcement is that automobiles, telephones, electric cars and other inventions, by relaxing the physical strain on human beings and allowing them more time to think, are responsible for the increase in crime, suicide and various forms of abnormality. The weakness of the theory lies in a lack of proof of this increase. Investigation is made searching and records are more carefully and systematically kept than formerly, but this age compares favorably with any past age. In fact, considering the incentives to crime, the increase of wealth, the growing density of population, and the possibility of hiding in a crowd, this is an age of comparative quiet. It is true there are crimes, atrocious crimes, but neither this scientist nor any other scientist can point to any period when there was less. McDonald also advances the statement that you must "eat meat and potatoes, or you may become a criminal." The serious, sober, hard-working vegetarian may either resent indignant at this, or else he may rebut that if you do eat meat and potatoes you may become a criminal. The statement is as startling as it is nonsensical.—(Washington Times.

COLORADO COMMENT.

Reservoir Needed.

It must be manifested that the western portions of the eastern and northeastern counties of the state must soon provide reservoirs if a sufficient supply of water for irrigation is to be supplied for each season. The tax on the natural streams is becoming great for the acreage, and unless we provide them, we are liable to suffer great distress by reason of a failure in the precious liquid. Garfield county presents several good opportunities for successful reservoirs, and our farmers should give this matter careful consideration.—(Glenwood Post.

Democratic Nominee.

There is no doubt but that Mr. Cleveland received a great populist demonstration in St. Louis when they did the president. There is also no doubt but that the next Democratic nominee, whoever he may be, will receive a greater popular demonstration than will Mr. Roosevelt.—(Trinidad Advertiser.

An Epigram.

A modern epigram: Every wife is the Architect of her husband, but that does not prevent her husband from trying to undertake some women task of making building, thankless tho' it be.—(Louisville News-Dispatch.

Oil Sprinkling.

We have one word of advice for the people of Colorado Springs in regards to sprinkling their streets with oil. Don't.—(Glenwood Avalanche.

A Great Team.

The Colorado Springs team of the Western league has made a remarkable opening this season. Up to Sunday night it had played 13 games, of which it had won 11 and lost three, all of the games lost having been played on Sunday. The table of percentages shows Colorado Springs in a class by itself, none of the other teams being anywhere near its score.—(Pueblo Chieftain.

Winter Feed.

Now is the time for people with stock to prepare for winter feed. The humane society will be after sheep and cattle herds next winter. The manner in which the horses were clothed up last winter should be a warning. There is nothing at the writing to indicate that the range will be any better this year than it was last season unless there is sufficient rain this summer to redeem the drouth-stricken range, then will be absolutely no winter feed and a sick will either die or be fed out by the humane society unless every man has sufficient feed for his stock. Our soil yields abundantly and a few acres of almost any kind of forage will keep a herd of 2,000 or 3,000 head of sheep or a small herd of cattle through the two or three months feeding season. This timely warning should be heeded.—(Antonito Chieftain.

Silver.

The silver question so far from being dead is one of the most live topics in politics. It will likely appear in another form, but the campaign of 1904 is sure to include it.—(Gunnison News.

Sheep Feeding.

In one line of industry connected with farming operations of Colorado does not seem to have less prominence than heretofore. Preparation is made to sheep feeding. The quality of our lambs put on the eastern markets from this section will not maintain the same high grade of excellence which has distinguished them in the past, but the number sold will be much less. This change has been brought about by the sugar factory causing alfalfa lands to be devoted to the more profitable culture of sugar beets. This reduction in the acreage of alfalfa has caused an increase in price of hay which is likely to discourage the fattening of lambs. However, the decrease in the volume of this industry does not indicate a backward step, but the contrary, as the soil is being devoted to a crop which brings more money to the farmers.—(Rocky Ford Enterprise.

Oil-ett's Names.

The talk of changing the name of Oil-ett is going to be agitated. There is no question but what the name has been a handicap in the past. But with the present changed conditions the name is a good enough. Property is changing hands rapidly and lots are being sold. There is prosperity in the air and it is evident to all. In a short time our people will consider the advantages of annexing Cripple Creek as one of our suburban towns. With this example with its operation Oil-ett will not be many years from being a mining and resort town of the first class.—(Gillett Record.

Justice Brown's Champion Liar.

Apropos of a dinner in Washington which Justice Brown of the supreme court was given in honor of the French ambassador and Mme. Jusserand. The talk had turned to aviation, and a guest had told a story of a liar. Justice Brown said:

"There is a story of an Irishman that is appropriate, too. This Irishman, hearing shrieks as he was passing a deep pool, turned and saw a man struggling in the water. He threw off his coat and leaped in, saved the man's life at the risk of his own.

"Then the two, on the bank and rested for a moment, finally the man who had been rescued said:

"'I suppose, sir, from what you have saved me from, I must reward you. Here is a fiver.'

"The Irishman stared at the fiver and then he looked at the man.

"'Ireland,' he said, 'is overpaid for the loss.'—(Lippincott's.

The Philadelphia Ledger says:

The letter of General Miles explaining his attitude on the question of cruelties in the Philippines is a straightforward, manly and fine-spirited statement, which should only need to be read to it to put the lieutenant general right in the minds of those of his countrymen who have been carried away by the cry that he is abusing and dishonoring the army under his command.

General Miles explains that he was sent to the Philippines officially, with directions from the president to give special attention to the instruction, discipline and supplies of the army. He made, accordingly, an official inspection. In the course of it facts were related to him by officers of rank and experience, as well as by citizens, charging offenses of which he had never before heard. He discovered that an impression existed in the islands that acts which our army, in agreement with that of every civil and power in the world, has always prohibited were considered justifiable there; that written and oral orders had been given under which the offenses charged were justified. General Miles, in virtue of his office as lieutenant general commanding the army of the United States, reminded all such orders. He has not criticised an act of any American soldier. By implication, he has condemned the acts of a few officers who were guilty of issuing cruel orders.

The commander of the army resents with indignant on which becomes him

Moving.

I've been eating off the bi'ount and I've worked till I'm all dead
Packing up the crockery and taking down the bed.
I've bitten into furniture until I'm black and blue
And now, on top of moving, we've got to clean house, too!

Or the people moving in here will say:
"What a dirty place!"
My wife says, "And then, Charlie, I should die of disgrace!"
And the house we're moving into has been cleaned up to the towers
By the people moving out and moving into ours.

But that does not seem to change things, for the moment that we're through
The job of moving in, twill be clean house number two!
As the folks who've hooted our house, right on top of moving in,
Will haul out mops and soap, and house cleaning will begin!

I had thought, this year, by moving,
From house cleaning I'd escape,
But by proposing moving
I've got it a worse shape.

Ignorance and neglect are the cause of untold female suffering, not only with the lower classes but with the privileged. A cure. HOW THE CLEVELAND GRAYS WERE FEASTED WHEN THEY CAME TO TOWN

FRANK H. RONENGER,
Quartermaster of the Grays, who planned the banquet.

The Cleveland Grays return to the east this afternoon after having distinguished themselves for all time to come. Famous dinners have been given in the east, still garnishing the records of famous chefs, but the crack military organization of Cleveland, Ohio, has added another to the list and the pages of history would have to be carefully searched to find anything surpassing it.

In the first place, the banquet of the Grays was served on the special train of seven cars rushing eastward at the rate of 50 miles an hour.

In the second place, a hundred men followed each other to daintily set tables, and feasted on imagination and then with unholy glee laid their combustibles in one as artistically set a trap as mad ever was planned by a practical joker.

In the third place the banquet was a paradox. While the lips were pursed in rebellion at the courses, the enjoyment was so keen that the guests were loath to depart.

Planned the Banquet.

It seems that Lieutenant Frank H. Ronenger, quartermaster of the Grays, planned the banquet before he left Cleveland and thought it a good time to play the joke as the train was on its way to Colorado Springs. Monday evening after Salt Lake City had been left menu cards were distributed to the Grays and their guests reading: "Complimentary Dinner, in honor of Comrade A. Pierce Shupe, in appreciation of his arduous work and highly successful efforts as financial secretary of the Grays' California trip."

It had been quietly given out that the banquet would be unusually elaborate when served in the dining car that evening, and to a man the Grays stinted themselves at lunch. There were so many on the train that the quartermaster and the chef, who was a party to the joke, arranged that there should be three tables. After one table had been served, the guests for the second and third tables would be ushered into the diner in turn. When the hungry military men were summoned they found artistically printed menu cards containing a picture of "General Shupe" and smacked their lips in anticipation of the good things set forth. They were somewhat surprised to receive for the cocktails plain water with a red cherry in the glasses. Thinking it a mistake they said nothing and tackled the caviar. It seemed that simultaneously they all bit into sandwiches of axle grease and the finest of bird shot. No man dared to look at his neighbor, but there was a sudden lifting of glasses and the waiters hastily returned to the pantry the relish. When the "cream of chicken soup, a la China," was brought the fact that a joke was being played became apparent. The soup consisted of hot water and miniature china dolls and animals reposing at the bottom of the plates. The diners were perplexed when genuine celery and radishes were brought with long loaves of French bread. "Now, since they have played the joke, we are going to have some food," was the happy thought. On the card appeared "Sho-me Sherry." But they were not shown sherry, for none appeared.

Pluvius Sauce.

The next course was "Choice ribs with Pluvius sauce." The ribs, to the hot

Judge of Water Tight Contests

At the election held yesterday afternoon in Union Labor hall for the selection of a delegate to represent Typographical union No. 82 at the convention of the International Typographical union to be held in Washington beginning August 10, Harry A. Scholton was the successful candidate. There were only two candidates in the field, Mr. Scholton of the Gazette, and John T. Jones of the Authentic Printing company. Mr. Scholton received 55 votes and A. T. Jones 34. W. C. MacMillan was selected as alternate, receiving 21 votes to Harry Mohn's seven votes. No candidates were announced for this office, the votes being entirely complimentary.

The vote was taken by ballot, the polls being open from 4:30 p. m. to 7 p. m. at Union Labor hall. The judges were H. A. Cledenning and C. A. Smith, with H. A. Johnston, clerk. The local union has voted the sum of $100 to defray the expenses of the delegates to the International convention.

While the matter of removing international headquarters to this city in connection with the Union Printers home will be agitated, the subject will not be brought up officially until the annual convention to be held in St. Louis in 1904.

J. L. Wetherel was unanimously chosen as a delegate to the stereotypers' annual convention, to be held in Washington at the same time. The election was held in Labor hall and in the same manner as that of the typographical union.

PROF. SHEDD QUOTED IN ARTICLE ON "SNOW CRYSTALS"

The annual summary of the Monthly Weather Review contains an interesting article by W. A. Bentley of Jericho, Vt., who makes public in this way some of the results of a series of observations extending over a long course of years upon the myriad beautiful forms assumed by the crystals of snow. The article is illustrated by an extensive collection of photo-micrographs, and contains a classification of the forms with some attempt to show under what circumstances the different variation originate. It is obvious that when this subject shall have been thoroughly worked out it will add another valuable source of information concerning weather changes, to those already available. The theory is as yet, however, very imperfect, and offers a fascinating field for investigation. Prof. J. C. Shedd of Colorado college, whose studies and illustrated lectures on this subject have attracted much attention, is quoted in the article in connection with the occurrence of "doublets"—that strange and interesting form in which a hexagonal rod, like an axle, bears in the place of wheels, one or more—usually two—flat hexagonal plates. This form is among the less common shapes, but the Vermont investigator finds them fairly abundant in his locality.

LEWIS NAMED AS MACNEILL'S SUCCESSOR

There has been a rumor current for several days that Mr. Charles M. MacNeill has resigned or was about to resign his position as vice president and general manager of the United States Reduction & Refining company. Inquiry at the office of the company elicits the information that no such action has been taken or even contemplated and it is not known where the rumor started, certainly from no authoritative source. It is further stated that the entire board of directors, representing a very large majority of all the stock of the company, is entirely satisfied with Mr. MacNeill's management and that there never has been even a suggestion of a change.

Mr. MacNeill, together with Mr. Tutt and Mr. Penrose, is at present in New York city on business, but Mr. MacNeill expects to return at the earliest possible moment and will resume his duties as heretofore.

Mr. Babbitt when asked regarding the rumor said: "There is positively not the slightest foundation for it in fact. No such action has ever been suggested even."

GOLDEN CYCLE CASE SEVEN DEFENDANTS

L. E. Hill, general manager of the Golden Cycle company was on the witness stand in Judge Lewis' court room nearly all of yesterday. Mr. Hill is a director of the lease on the Theresa property and was one of the chief defendants in the suit brought by the minority stockholders. It is evident from the length and thoroughness of the examination that the plaintiffs intend to make him their chief witness. The examination yesterday covered mainly the records of the company, the minutes of the stockholders' meetings and other records showing the official actions of the defendants. At every point in the examination, objection was interposed by the counsel for the defendant, and aside from the examination of the witness the day's proceedings was a continuous succession of legal points, raised, fought out and excepted to.

An Important Point.

One point raised by Attorney Waldron of Denver struck vitally at the introduction of evidence tending to show that the sum of $15,000, alleged by the plaintiffs to have been used for purposes other than the defense of the Golden Cycle company, was misappropriated. The plaintiffs were examining Charles del Bondio of Cripple Creek regarding his employment in connection with the action taken by the majority stockholders to have the case removed to the United States court. Their questions sought to bring out that the sum of $15,000 had been exorbitant and that the defendants, Milliken and Hill, had no right to use the funds of the corporation for the defense of the suit, this line of questioning was objected to by Attorney Waldron, who maintained that the complaint of the plaintiffs did not allege that the sum was exorbitant, but merely alleged that Milliken and Hill had no right to use the corporate funds for the purpose of defending the suit. Attorney Potts for the plaintiffs denied Mr. Waldron's construction of the pleadings and an argument followed. The sustaining of the point raised by Waldron would have excluded much of the testimony of the plaintiffs, and compelled them to argue on the legal question involved in the denial of the right of Milliken and Hill, as president and secretary, respectively, of the Golden Cycle company to appropriate funds from the treasury of the company. Judge Lewis held that he was in doubt concerning the point raised and would therefore allow the introduction of the evidence, reserving the right to order it stricken from the record should it later appear that the contention of the defendants was correct. This ruling, like all others made during the day, was excepted to, and will form the basis of a motion for a new trial should the suit be finally decided against the defendants. Hill had been excused before the examination of this witness began, owing to the fact that he did not have with him certain records which the plaintiff's wish to use examining him. He will be called again as the first witness this morning.

Regarding Certain Allegations.

When the case was called at 10 o'clock yesterday morning, Judge Lewis announced that he considered several of the allegations in the complaint to be of little value so far as the relief sought by the plaintiffs was concerned. These allegations he mentioned as being first, the sum of $50,000 loaned to John T. Milliken. This sum was later replaced in the treasury by the defendant Hill, and it is not in the opinion of Judge Lewis eliminated it as a factor in the case. He declared the same opinion regarding the sum of $1,050, paid to employes of the company. This sum had been replaced by Hill, when objection was raised, but later, on authorization of the board of directors, was returned to him. The court declared also that he considered the company had a right to lease the Theresa property to whomsoever it pleased, so long as it was not without the scope of the company's powers.

All of these questions are still before the court for consideration, however, and the statement of Judge Lewis does not affect the conduct of the case. When L. E. Hill is called to the stand this morning, he will be questioned concerning the number of stockholders present at the Denver stockholder's meeting, the number of shares voted and by whom they were cast. This line of questioning is to be pursued by the plaintiffs for the purpose of proving their allegations, that the affairs of the company are under the control of John T. Milliken and L. E. Hill.

MEETING OF BUSINESS MEN'S ASSOCIATION

The directors of the Business Men's association of Manitou held a regular meeting last night in the town hall. The question of caring for the Christian Endeavor visitors who will be in Manitou some time in July, was the subject under discussion. It was decided not to make any effort to induce the delegates to the Denver convention to come to Manitou, it being the idea that a larger portion of them would come anyway. The directors therefore decided to act with the Christian Endeavor society of Manitou in all matters pertaining to the entertainment of the visiting delegates. A canvass will shortly be made to determine what arrangements can be made for special entertainment during the month of July. The Christian Endeavor society will appoint several committees to have charge of the arrangements for taking care of the visitors and welcoming them to the city and also to meet them in Denver during the convention.

It was expected that the directors would consider the question of erecting a handstand but this matter was passed over until another meeting. Due to the next few weeks it is expected several extra meetings will be held to discuss matters with the Christian Endeavor society.

HOW IT HAPPENED THAT THE CLEVELAND GRAYS WERE HUNGRY WHEN THEY CAME TO TOWN

plexity of those at table, turned out to be small sections of umbrella ribs. The Pluvius sauce became apparent when each waiter with a decorum that was majesty of demeanor itself, elevated over the head of each guest a miniature watering pot and sprinkled with genuine water the cranium of the unsuspecting diner. Following came "kaurteole," which proved to be pure vinegar. Nobody partook of it. The next course was mashed potatoes and squash followed by "hot slaw, poodle dog style." Then was wiener-wurst and sauer-kraut. The California salad which was served proved to be lilis, presented to each member of the Grays with the expenses of the trip duly noted, the organization having been suggested monthly in anticipation of the journey. The point to this was that the Grays went to California. The bills were sprinkled with grass. Then came the piece de resistence, simply labeled "Bird" and flanked with the legend "Mumm's Xtra Dry. Mail-he."

This was a bit puzzling to the guests, for they had heard of "bird" and other legends applied to wines but had never heard of the "Mail-he" kind. It appeared from rapid development that the printer had made a mistake and that the word should read "mavis." It is needless to say the extra dry did not materialize, except in the form of dry humor. But the "bird" restored good humor.

It was a wooden cage containing that species of fish known on the Pacific coast as the "blind robin." The fish was dead, of course, and reposed on a bed of green grass within the miniature crate. Each guest may prize this bird as one of the most interesting souvenirs of the trip. Then followed lemon ice, which was nothing but cracked ice with a bit of lemon peel; cakes, assorted nuts, which were lemon nuts taken from bolts; raisins, represented by upright pieces of wood, crackers, cheese, coffee, cigars and cordials, the latter proving to be small bottles of hair oil, highly scented. The crackers and cheese were toy firecracker-second small pieces of castile soap. As each party of guests left the diner they enthusiastically greeted the other hungry members on the train and told them what a splendid banquet had been served, so the last was carried out to admirable completion.

Other Jokes Played.

It was after the banquet that other practical jokes were played. So exhilarated were some of the members that the fun was fast and furious and, according to D. C. MacWatters of the traffic department of the Short Line railroad, who accompanied the Grays on their trip to Colorado Springs, he would not have fallen asleep for $1,000. One man did go to sleep and 15 grains of quinine was deftly placed on his tongue. In about five minutes he awoke and, thinking he was dying, made a commotion in the sleeper, horrible to behold and more fearful to hear. There were a good many who were hungry, but the banquet will linger in the recollection of all as the most enjoyable feature of the trip.

Yesterday the Grays were carried by special train to Cripple Creek over the Short Line and pronounced the experience the finest they had had. The entire party were the guests of Warren Woods, who escorted them through the Economic reduction plant and then afforded them the rare privilege of riding over the trolley line through the tunnel, a distance of nearly a mile to the Gold Coin mine at Victor. They ascended the shaft from the electric lighted tunnel and then returned to Cripple Creek over the High Line. The return was made to Colorado Springs in the late afternoon. This morning a trip over the cog road to the summit of Pike's Peak will be taken by the majority. Others will go on drives to Palmer park, Cheyenne canon, Manitou, and the Garden of the Gods. Among the visitors are several members of the old New York guard. The personnel of the Grays is as follows:

MUSICAL SERVICE AT GRACE CHURCH

A special musical service will be given tonight at Grace church under the direction of Clarence D. Sears, the organist and choirmaster. The vested choir will render the choral service, also the "Magnificat" and "Nunc Dimittis" by Sears, and the anthem, "Praise the Lord, O My Soul," by Royle, the soprano part being sung by 20 boys, having done away with the women sopranos.

The soloists for the evening will be John P. Grant, basso cantante, formerly of London, England, and a newcomer to Colorado Springs, where he has made many friends among the music people of this place. He has a voice rich in quality, mellow and powerful. Mr. Grant will sing selections from the oratorios, namely, "Lord God of Abraham," from the oratorio "Elijah," "The Trumpet Shall Sound," from the "Messiah," and "O God Have Mercy," from "Saint Paul." A musical treat is in store for those who attend this service. The service is free to all and will begin at 8 o'clock sharp. The offering is for the choir fund and for that reason silver is asked. WELL-KNOWN COUPLE MARRIED AT MANITOU

At the home of Mr. H. D. Snyder at Manitou yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock, Miss Hattie B. Calton of this city was united in marriage to Fred C. Kuns of St. Louis. The clergyman officiating was Rev. D. W. Bonell of St. Andrew's church.

For the occasion the house was prettily decorated with potted plants, cut flowers and asparagus plumosa. The bridal gown was of blue nun's veiling over white taffeta and garnitured with applique lace. The bouquet was of bride's roses. A dainty breakfast was served after the ceremony and Mr. and Mrs. Kuns then departed for a brief wedding journey. After June 1 they will be at home to their friends at 430 South Twelfth street, Denver.

GEN. PALMER GIVES PROPERTY TO SCHOOL FOR DEAF AND DUMB

The transfer yesterday morning of a large plot of ground in Bristol Heights addition to General William J. Palmer from Colorado college brought to light a gift of General Palmer to the Colorado State School for the Deaf and for the Blind, the ground purchased being intended for a play ground. The consideration named in the deed is $10,000.

The gift of General Palmer will provide the school with a suitable play ground, the large purchase being added to the property recently acquired for this purpose. The land transferred from the college includes lots 5 to 14 inclusive, in block 2, Bristol Heights addition, lot 1 in block 3 and lots 9, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15 and 16 in block 4.

Recent purchases have added two and one-half acres to the property of the school. Attorneys Gunnell, Chain & Miller have been closing options on property in the immediate vicinity of the institution. On some of the property acquired there stand nine residences, and it is the plan of the school authorities to raze these buildings and beautify the grounds as soon as the school receives the $40,000 appropriation by the last legislature.

The school is numbered in the third class of state institutions benefited by appropriations. The first and second class appropriations are paid first and if there are sufficient funds left the following classes receive either the full appropriations or pro-rated appropriations. It is also intended to erect a gymnasium at the school and if sufficient funds are received from the appropriation the work of improvement will be pushed forward.

Start Paving on Nevada Will Be Discussed Tonight

At the meeting of the directors of the Good Roads association yesterday morning the principal subject for discussion was the dust problem. The sentiment of everyone present at the meeting was that something should be done immediately and it was therefore voted that a block, probably on Nevada avenue, should be selected, upon which to make exhaustive tests of various appliances and combinations. The secretary was instructed to correspond with one of the most expert road makers in California where roads have been successfully treated with oil after a series of experiments. It will be necessary to bring the apparatus for applying and mixing the oil with the gravel from California, and it is the purpose of the association to also bring a competent engineer who has had long experience in road making.

An important suggestion was made to the association in a communication from an eastern man who is heavily interested in Colorado Springs business property. This was that the association should investigate the proposition of paving the streets of Colorado, Tejon and Nevada and the cross streets between Platte on the north and Vermijo on the south. The officers of the association heartily indorse the project and will immediately consult with the business men of the city to determine their sentiment. It is proposed to use asphalt for this purpose. It is desired that suggestions be made and each will be gladly received by the association and acted upon. The association however, proposes to devote its present energies at the present time to the dust problem and to create public sentiment to a realization of the importance of the question to the welfare of the city. It is understood that the chamber of commerce, the Riding and Driving association and the Good Roads association will hold a joint meeting in the near future as soon as the data for which the Good Roads association is sending has been secured, for the purpose of making a unified effort to conduct experiments along the lines suggested. A petition was presented to the directors from the Real Estate exchange asking the association to request the city council to pass an ordinance to keep the sidewalks free from obstructions. Those present at the meeting yesterday were J. A. Hayes, D. V. Donaldson, Godfrey Khuell, I. C. Perkins and C. F. Dodge.

Cripple Creek to Take Part in Memorial Day Exercises

Arrangements are now being made to have the public school children take part in the Memorial day exercises. It has been the custom heretofore to have the school children take part in the parade and march with the various military and civic organizations. This year the school children will be assembled in North park and while the veterans march by patriotic songs will be sung. A number of the national airs are now being rehearsed in the schools for the occasion. At the last meeting of the board of education Mrs. W. H. H. Stole was appointed by the board to take charge of this part of the Memorial day exercises.

Post Commander Lo. C. Dana will announce in a few days the names of those who are to be detailed to visit the public schools Friday, May 29. One veteran and one member of the Woman's Relief Corps will be detailed by Commander Dana and President Mrs. Corp B. Sawyer to visit each school on that date.

Dreams of Hot Air Waste Time of Justice Bailey

A serious accident was averted at the new county court house yesterday only by the presence of mind of the principal actor in it. For several days a number of men have been engaged in washing the high windows in the court rooms and over the main stairways. Scaffolds have been erected on ladders and the work has been done from these. Yesterday Ben Woods, colored, was working on a scaffold over the south stairs. He was washing the highest part of the window, only a few feet from the ceiling and at least 25 feet above the second platform of the stairway. He had finished his work and was preparing to come down when he slipped, lost his balance and tilted the whole scaffold to one side. In a moment the braces gave way and the whole structure tumbled to the marble floor, 25 feet below.

Woods realized his position as soon as the scaffold careened and grasped one of the chains holding the transom of the window in place. He weighs about 200 pounds and his grasp of the chain tore the skin from his hands. It was the means of breaking his fall, however, and although he was compelled to let loose of the chain he dropped feet first to the floor and escaped with only a jar.

The noise of the falling scaffold attracted the attention of Court Clerk Clyde Starrett and Fairfax W. H. Duncan, who ran to the spot, fearing that something was wrong. They arrived in time to see Woods loosen his grasp on the brass chain and fall to the floor below. Considering his heavy weight and the distance he dropped, Woods escaped without serious injury is deemed almost miraculous.

Judge Orr Will Suspend Sentence in Case of Girl Who Is Charged With Incorrigibility

Margaret L. Howells, 16 years old, charged with incorrigibility, was arraigned before Judge James A. Orr in the county court yesterday. Attorney R. L. Holland was appointed to represent her, and the prosecution was handled by Assistant District Attorney Black.

A number of witnesses were called, mostly people for whom she had worked, who testified that she was very wayward, stayed out late at night and had rough associates. Her aunt, Mrs. Mary Wagner, was the chief witness against her. The girl herself, when placed on the witness stand, told a rather pitiful story of a hard life. She stated that her mother kept a saloon in some small town in Kansas, that her father, from whom her mother had been separated, had defended for a number of years on the south Kansas and could carry, and that since his death, she had been practically alone in the world. She said she was 15 years old when her father died.

Judge Orr suspended sentence, but it is understood that he will give her the same sentence as passed on the boys, who have been brought before him under the provisions of the juvenile law. That is, she will be sentenced to the reform school until she is 21 years old and the sentence suspended during good behavior. This will mean that she will be put under the care of Probationary Officer L. H. Rouse.

Lawyers Will Organize Bar Association Today

The organization of the El Paso County Bar association will doubtless be perfected today. All the attorneys of the city and county have been invited to attend a meeting at the new court house at 9:30 this morning for that purpose. The meeting will be held in the chambers of Judge John W. Cunningham, and it is urged that as many attorneys attend as possible.

Attorney George W. Musser, who is the moving spirit in the agitation for the organization of the Bar association, has prepared a set of by-laws for the government of such an association, which will be proposed for adoption at the meeting this morning. The association is incorporated and the officers provided for are: President, vice president, treasurer and secretary. Three committees are also provided for, these are executive committee, grievance committee and committee on admissions. As the by-laws outline, the association is to be organized for the purpose of furthering the science of jurisprudence.

There has been no one mentioned for the various offices or for membership on the committees. Mr. Musser stated last night that he expected the organization would be completed today, the officers elected and the El Paso County Bar association placed with the other bar associations of the larger cities and counties of the country.

SOTHERN IN "IF I WERE KING."

The advance demand for seats proves that all Colorado Springs theater-goers will be present at the Opera house next Tuesday evening at the engagement of Mr. H. Sothern to greet his remarkable delineation of the vagabond poet lover-warrior and hero, Francois Villon, in Justin Huntly McCarthy's stirring dramatic romance, "If I Were King." Mr. Sothern is coming supported by the strongest organization that has ever been seen with him. Miss Cecille Loftus came to this country from London where she has been appearing as leading woman for Sir Henry Irving to become Mr. Sothern's leading woman. Miss Margaret Illington, who will be seen in the pathetic Huguette, the Arabian who sacrifices her life for Francois Villon, attained prominence through her winning the Joseph Jefferson Drummond medal for elocution. George W. Wilson will be seen in his famous impersonation of King Louis XI, and Rowland Buckstone, William Morris, Henry J. Carvill, Cecil De Mille, John Findlay, Stephen Wright and Fredric L. Perry.

Sothern's marvelous impersonation of the vagabond poet who, in the course of the play rises from the gutter to greatness, the thrilling situations of the play, the brilliant coloring, the grouping of the characters in which Mr. Sothern's master hand at stage technique is shown, and the picturesque scenes have been generally conceded to make the most impressive performance in the realm of the drama. Reserved seats are now on sale at advanced prices.

MR. GOLDMARK'S METHOD IN LECTURING.

Mr. Goldmark usually, in beginning a lecture, the first of the drama and describes the characters, he then sits down to the piano and proceeds to give a very able analysis of the words and music. By picking each melody clear and showing how each incident and character is portrayed musically as well as dramatically by Wagner he brings the music within the comprehension of even those who are not Wagner enthusiasts. His sympathy and understanding of the great master are infectious and even those who know little of Wagner or of his operas feel at the close of one of these lectures that they have had a pleasant and profitable evening. Mr. Goldmark's skill with the piano and his lucidity and power as a lecturer make a somewhat difficult task come easy to him and while a piano play seem a poor substitute for an orchestra, it is really wonderful what Mr. Goldmark can do with it and how he commands the attention of his audience.

GETTING READY TO RE-OPEN THE HIAWATHA

The work of repairing the Hiawatha building in Manitou is now well under way. The west end of the building has been torn out and the work of erecting the new grand for the entertainments which are to be given will begin in the next few days. The grounds about the resort are also being cleaned up and the trees and shrubbery have received a good trimming. The ground has been plowed and seeded and the grass should be up by the time the resort is opened to the public. It is not expected, however, that it will be possible to have the repairs completed before June 10, and possibly not until June 15, but the work is to be pushed as rapidly as possible and will be far enough advanced, so that the exact date of opening can be announced within the next 10 days or two weeks.

WOMAN'S GENTLE NATURE NEEDS GENTLE TREATMENT
Delicately formed and gently reared, women will find, in all the seasons of their lives, as maidens, wives or mothers, that the one simple, wholesome remedy which acts gently and pleasantly and naturally, and which may be used with truly beneficial effects, under any conditions, when the system needs a laxative, is—Syrup of Figs. It is well known to be a simple combination of the laxative and carminative principles of plants with pleasant, aromatic liquids, which are agreeable and refreshing to the taste and acceptable to the system when its gentle cleansing is desired.
Many of the ills from which women suffer are of a transient nature and do not come from any organic trouble and it is pleasant to know that they yield so promptly to the beneficial effects of Syrup of Figs, but when anything more than a laxative is needed it is best to consult the family physician and to avoid the old-time cathartics and oddly advertised nostrums of the present day. When one needs only to remove the strain, the torpor, the congestion, or similar ills, which attend upon a constipated condition of the system, use the true and gentle remedy—Syrup of Figs—and enjoy freedom from the depression, the aches and pains, colds and headaches, which are due to inactivity of the bowels.
Only those who buy the genuine Syrup of Figs can hope to get its beneficial effects and as a guarantee of the excellence of the remedy the full name of the company—California Fig Syrup Co.—is printed on the front of every package and without it any preparation offered as Syrup of Figs is fraudulent and should be declined. To those who know the quality of this excellent laxative, the offer of any substitute, when Syrup of Figs is called for, is always resented by a disregard of patronage to some first-class drug establishment, where they do not recommend, nor sell fake brands, nor imitation remedies. The genuine article may be bought of all reliable druggists everywhere at 50 cents per bottle.

No woman's happiness can be complete without children; it is her nature to love and want them as much so as it is to love the beautiful and pure. The critical ordeal through which the expectant mother must pass, however, is so fraught with dread, pain, suffering and danger, that the very thought of it fills her with apprehension and horror. There is no necessity for the reproduction of life to be either painful or dangerous. The use of Mother's Friend prepares the system for the coming event that it is safely passed without any danger. This great and wonderful remedy is always reliable, truly and perfectly does its work. Carried through the entire period without suffering, nausea, or any of the discomforts peculiar to that condition. Mother's Friend

MILWAUKEE KELLY AND THE UMPIRES

Also Some Interesting Baseball Is Played Here.

Which the Millionaires Come Out Victorious—An Exciting Day for Fans.

Thigh Duffy's band of Milwaukee Cowens dropped the first of the series yesterday to the locals by a score of 11 to 8. With the hitting and the errors and the charming personality of Umpire J. J. Kelly grouped around it all, the game was an interesting one for the 800 spectators who had assembled to witness the battle. The fielding was again on the Bunco order, both teams making them wish as frequently that kept the fans guessing as to what was coming next. Bad throws, muffs and mixups seemed to come with ease. Both teams were off on fielding. Duffy himself gave two locals the privilege of taking the initial sack on errors. The errors of the visitors were made at critical times and were responsible for the majority of the runs thrown into the coffers of the Milwaukees. The hitting was of the heavy variety at times and during the latter part of the game considerab e artillery practice was indulged in by both aggregations.

Umpire Kelly made his debut on the local ball field yesterday. Kelly is an umpire in every sense of the word. He at once impresses the fan with the idea that Kelly is Kelly and Kelly is an umpire, and the umpire is there to rule the game and he fills the part. Yesterday only twice did Kelly lock horns with the players and then he darted such looks in their direction that they had to immediately get into the game to keep from freezing to death. Kelly said "Back to your places" and they backed. Capt n Bill Everitt didn't agree with Kelly as to the position of the batter once, but Kelly duly impressed upon Everitt's mind that he (Kelly) knew where the batsman ought to stand and Everitt side-stepped to the proper place. Kelly knows his business when it comes to decisions but it must be admitted that he governs the players in a way that is astonishing.

Looked Bad at First.

McNeeley was o yesterday and it looked for a time as if "Dyke" was to join the shut-out class. Up to the seventh inning the best that the visitors could do was to secure an assortment of bo'he collars, but in the seventh Cockman knocked a home run and that got McNeeley off. During the seventh, eighth and ninth the visitors got seven hits, good for a total of 12 bases, which, coupled with four errors on the part of the Moneyed Men gave the visitors six runs, and for a time made the final result look extremely doubtful for the Everitt crowd.

Swormstedt started in to pitch for the visitors, but in five innings was pounded for an assortment of 10 hits, netting 18 bases. Duffy substituted Vallendorf in the sixth. This individual put up a great article of ba l, allowing just one hit in the three innings he pitched, and that a measly single.

The locals scored in the first on Fleming's double, Francks out, and Swacina's single. In the second they got two on Duffy's error, a sacrifice by Nill and Doran's hit. Granville who was hit by a pitched ball, and got second on the hit, also scored on M ller's error in not fielding the ball properly. In the fifth Swacina singled as d d Congalton. Everitt got a three-bagger on one sent to deep left, scoring Congalton and Swacina. Nill's double scored Everitt. Nill gained third on Cockman's error and came in on McNeeley's three-bagger. In the seventh Nill walked, reached second on Vallendorf's error and came home on Miller's error. Granville who had reached first on a fielder's choice, took third on the error and scored on Doran's single.

Visitors Score.

The visitors did not score until the seventh, although in the sixth they got three men on bases. In the seventh Cockman's home run brought in himself and Vallendorf. Vallendorf gained third on a hit, McNeeley's bad throw to second and a field play. In the eighth Gatins singled and took second on Nill's error, who also brought in Duffy, who had reached third on a double and a field play, Miller scored on Vallendorf's second hit. In the ninth Cockman walked, Thornton knocked a high fly near third, Francks and Granville both went after it, but Francks took the chance, dropping the ball. Cockman, thinking the ball would be caught, did not move from first, and Francks threw the ball to Everitt. Everitt touched Cockman and Kelly called the runner out, giving the ball to Thornton. Duffy knocked one to center that would probably have given him second, Swacina made a bad play and turned his back to the ball. If he had stopped it, it would have made a grandstand play, but the ball bounced over his head and by the time Congalton could get it, Duffy reached home. This ended the scoring. Attendance, 1,200.

Sporting Notes

The published list of the entries for the Pueblo race meet shows that nearly 80 horses are entered for the meet. A number of Colorado Springs owners have horses entered. The Pueblo meeting will be held June 9 to 12, just before the local meet.

W. H. Jacobs, president of the Rock Island road, has bought Major Daingerfield, the winner of the $25,000 stakes at Sheepshead bay last year. The purchase price is given as $25,000.

The annual field day of the Gentleman's Driving and Riding club of Denver will be held Saturday. A number of local horsemen intend to attend and witness the events.

The defeat of Denver university Tuesday by the State university gives the Denver team a clean cinch on the tail end of the Intercollegiate league.

Manager Rourke of the Omaha team has exchanged Ace Stewart, the captain and player who resigned on account of the taunting received by the bleachorites in an Omaha game, for Shugart, the Peoria third baseman. Stewart will probably captain the Peoria bunch while Shugart will probably be placed at third for Omaha in Hickey's place.

D. C. Packard of the Denver team was after Stewart to reinforce his band of cripples but was too late. Several new faces are likely to be seen on the Denver team in the near future if the negotiations which Packard is now carrying on with some well-known plays have a successful ending.

Millionaires at Top of Column—Some Comparisons Made—Standings Up to Date.

The following batting averages of every player in the Western league, compiled up to and including last Sunday's games, furnish some interesting reading for the local fans. That list shows himself the Millions re players playing above .300 as shown why Colorado Springs is at the top of the column just as Denver predicts says, if the locals keep up this batting gait during the season they are liable to remain at the top. Braun, Milwaukee's utility man, leads the league with Sunday with a batting average of .421, Villeman and Curtis the two local twirlers, come next with .000 each, while Jones a third with an average of .48. Jones has played a four games while Curtis and Villeman had each officiated in thirty up to the late the averages were compiled. Curtis has only played in one complete game, however. Friend, a Peoria pitcher, follows, while Congalton, the local right fielder, comes next, the ten heavy hitters of the league at the present time, with an average of .38. Carter, of Omaha, and Duffy of Milwaukee are between Congalton and Francks, while Fleming, Daley, Sternagle, Everitt, Newmyer and the rest of the list come in the order named in the 300 crowd. Swacina, who has just struck his gait and is now wielding the bat with a vengeance, is way down the list, the last of the local players but another week will probably put him up near the top. The averages of the local players published in these columns several days ago were compiled up to and including Sunday's game. Hence the difference in the averages that may be noticed.

Denver Batters Helped Peoria but Denver Bunched Hits and Won Its Game in the Seventh.

Special to the Gazette.

Denver, May 20.—Again today Denver had good luck, winning the game from Peoria by a score of 6 to 4. Heavy outfielding characterized play. On the other hand errors greatly assisted the Peoria batsmen in getting the runs chalked up to their credit. Outside of good work today by the home team in batting the number of Peoria errors aided greatly in winning the game. Because of the excellent box work neither side scored until the fourth inning when Peoria put a run chalked up to the fourth inning. Peoria scored twice. The Grizzlies made their first run in the first inning and Peoria also got one in the game inning. In the seventh Denver scored twice and that was the best they could do.

AROUND THE BASES

Milwaukee again this afternoon at 3:45.

Konnie is listed to do the twirling act for the visitors, while it will be either Newmyer or Villeman for locals.

Tomorrow will be ladies' day. Owing to an error it was stated that yesterday would be ladies' day but the days observed this year are Tuesdays and Fridays.

A number went out to the park expecting to take advantage of the rebate given for ladies on that day not knowing of the mistake. The management was not to blame for the error.

Poor old Duffy. He drew the taunts of the crowd yesterday on account of his two errors. "Who caught the ball? Why, Duffy caught it." Duffy's errors were the only two made by the visitors to allow the locals to reach first base.

Yesterday was a nice day for batting averages for the locals, that is for a select few. Swacina, Nill and Doran were the ones to take advantage of the assortment of curves Swormstedt furnished.

Swacina, thinking perhaps, of the batting average that was by far too small, proceeded to increase it to a little bit by netting two hits and two sacrifices out of five times up.

Doran slugged the ball for three hits out of five times up. His hits were good for a total of five bases.

Georgie Nill adopted his usual waiting policy and out of four times at bat got one single, one double and got one sacrifice.

According to Secretary Howard Masterson the bunch of bats at the Millionaires' park are using this season cost $13. Maybe this explains the slick work that is astonishing fans over the circuit.

Fielding not a scratch, but yesterday when Duffy lay back on a high fly. Miller missed it. It was a difficult chance but Duffy went to take it. Duffy missed another fly in the sixth, dropping Francks' long one.

Yesterday was a game of sacrifices—for the locals. Three of the local batsmen gave up their lives commercially that a base runner might advance.

There is not another team of the league but is better on sacrificing than the locals. Such fielding goes a long way in winning games.

Thornton's peculiar style was seen around the park yesterday for the first time this season. Milwaukee's first baseman is one of the best in the league and he is content with the association. Thornton's aids several hard tries yesterday.

Fleming demonstrates more and more every time that he is a player of whom the local management should well be proud. No matter where the ball is knocked cold slow foot is always there. And he never misses any. Fleming's only error of the season was made Sunday on a wild throw.

It wasn't any use to throw the ball to Cockman on third yesterday. That player won't drop the ball without fail. It was evidently an off day for the Milwaukee fielders—and the locals as well.

Francks turned himself into the human fulcrum yesterday when his rival, Gatins, sent a liner down his way. The ball went through Francks' hands and never stopped until it ran into Swacina's hands but a few feet.

Doran sent a nice one out to left yesterday that Milwaukee might have cut down to the tune of two sacker but McVicker, Cockman and Gatins held a training bee down around third and while they were talking Doran took another base.

McNeeley gave O'Neil something to do yesterday, sending a grounder one out that he dove his way. Steve did the grandstand promenade while O'Neil did the hot foot after the ball.

"Dusty" Miller hit one out to Congalton's territory yesterday that looked to be a triple but "Con's" ever-reliable throwing arm was ready for use and Miller decided to remain at No. 2. Congalton has one of the best wings in the league and the way he can send the sphere in at every long fly is beautiful to see.

The spectators had their eyes full watching the plays in parts of the game yesterday. It was kind of a continuous performance at times. In the seventh Nill was on first, Granville knocked an easy one to Vallendorf and that player immediately threw the ball to second to get Nill. He threw short and Nill was safe. Miller, who had the ball, attempted to put Granville out at first, although "Greeny" was already there and threw wide. Nill came in home on the error and Granville went to third. Thornton threw the ball to Lucia at the plate and Nill had a close shave. He slid under the ball, however, and was safe.

Independence.

The large boiler which arrived last week for the Stratton's Independence mine, was set in place late yesterday, and it was given its first test today which proved very successful for a trial.

This large boiler is set for the purpose of supplying the demand for an increased steam power, in order to carry out the extensive plans of Mr. Cornish, as he found conditions regarding the property warranted it.

Portland.

The Portland mine is putting in the largest air compressor in the world, also making many other improvements. This compressor when in operation will run 110 drills, and is the most powerful machine of its kind made. The management of this well-known property is also putting in two large boilers, and within 90 days, they claim they will be employing 1,000 men. At the present time 600 are on the pay roll.

Dante.

...oe Chandler of Victor, and a number of Cripple Creek people, have purchased the lease on the south end of the Dante, which promises very good results to the new owners. Work was commenced last Monday, and this morning a shipment of one carload was sent out, which from assays taken, will run in the neighborhood of one and a half ounces to the ton. The lessees claim that they have 3,000 tons of ore now in sight, and from samples, returns have ranged from $21.70 to $75.80 to the ton.

Merrimac.

A lease will be granted in a few days on the Merrimac company's ground on Rosebud hill, and an effort will be made by the new lessees to open up the rock. The new lessees are formed from Kansas capitalists, with plenty of money to back their proposition.

Mary Jane's Lease.

The Mary Jane company was granted a case today on the middle block of the Rocky Mountain claim on Beacon hill, and extensive operations will be commenced immediately.

NEW LEASE GRANTED ON THE BURNS CLAIM

The lease on a block of the Burns claim held by Porter brothers has been vacated at 6 o'clock, a new lease given by the company to other parties who will continue work. Only a little ore is being produced at this time, as nearly all the lessees are doing development work, getting ready to begin shipping again. Manager McKenzie states that the recent report in some papers to the effect that ore worth $10 per pound had been opened up in one of the leases was evidently made up out of whole cloth as there was no foundation for such a report.

"We discovered a small streak of ore, said Mr. McKenzie, which showed value of 25 cents per pound or $500 to the ton, but the ore body was only a small seam in the vein. This is somewhat different from $10 a pound, but we are well pleased with even this grade of rock."

EASTERN MARKETS

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET.

Report from J. S. Bache & Co., to Otis & Hough, Bankers and Brokers, 127 Pike's Peak Ave.

New York, May 20.—The feature of the morning was the weakness of Atchison. This stock was the leader in point of activity and extent of decline on the reports in London of large bond issue being placed abroad, and the official denial of the above at the company's office have had no effect in rallying the stock. Missouri Pacific did not act well, and gave evidences of a withdrawal of the support by the interests who had been actively engaged in buying at higher figures. We see no reason why holders should take fright and throw over their stocks.

McIntyre & Marshall—The break in the stock market today can be accounted for in another way than that the heavy sales of stocks which were thrown on the markets from the first hour and up to the close, came from some big people, and the liquidation was of a somewhat urgent and forced character. There was some talk that the wild cotton speculation had caused some financial troubles, but we were unable to learn of any firm having any direct connection with the cotton exchange as being in any way embarrassed. We are surprised at the market's extreme weakness, and were inclined to believe that a good rally was due on the improved technical speculative position from last week's extensive liquidation and short selling. Pending further developments to more satisfactorily explain today's break, we are inclined to suspend judgment on the probable immediate future course of prices.

CHICAGO GRAIN & PROVISIONS.

Furnished by Logan & Bryan to Otis & Hough, Bankers and Brokers, 127 Pike's Peak Ave.

Chicago, May 20.—Wheat—Liverpool ¾ to ⅞ higher, Paris unchanged to ¼ lower, Antwerp 1¼ lower. Market here was active and irregular. The close was strong. There is not much activity in cash situation, and mine supply and demand cut no figure in making prices at the moment. The news from the winter wheat belt is the controlling factor. While this is naturally conflicting to some extent, the tendency is distinctly worse. Very reliable reports from five or six of the big wheat counties of Kansas today confirm the appearance of damage from Hessian fly and already place the estimate at 25 per cent. Reports generally from soft winter wheat states east of the Missouri river are confirmatory of deterioration to an important degree. There is good deal local and outside speculative buying on this influence. With the comparatively small stocks market easily responds to it. The feeling is strong, and the tendency seems higher. Estimated cars, 15.

Corn—Liverpool ¼ higher. Market is very quiet and steady. The sympathetic influence of wheat is counteracted by the prospective large receipts. There are some complaints of so much rain in Iowa and of dry weather in other sections, but so far nothing is considered serious. Demand is a moderate one. Estimated cars, 165.

Oats—Market is about the strongest. Receipts have continued liberal, but the quality is much poorer than last year. Cash demand is only fair at best, and as the moment seems to have the support of two of the leading packing interests, but the smaller packers are disposed to market their product as they make it. We still think the receipts of hogs through the summer will be large and the provisions are safe on the next spots.

WEEKLY CROP BULLETIN.

For Week Ending Monday, May 18, 1903.

Denver, Colo., May 19, 1903.

The temperature has been reducing the above normal. Light frosts were reported during the opening days, and cool nights have further retarded growth and germination, especially of late sown grain and beets. Light but beneficial showers have occurred on the western slope, along the eastern foothills and in the Arkansas valley. Rain is needed, chiefly in the western counties, the south-central district and San Luis valley.

Corn planting is well advanced and seeding is nearing completion. Small grain is generally in good condition, although damage by cut worms is reported from south-central counties, in which district beets are also affected. Cultivation of beets, beans, potatoes, corn, melons, tomatoes and onions is in progress. Garden truck is generally growing slowly.

Fruit trees are blooming fairly well in northern counties, while the western slope reports still further improvement.

Irrigation of alfalfa has become general, the crop shows fine improvement except in western counties, where it is in poor condition. Ranges continue to improve slowly.

SHIPMENT OF ORE FROM BOULDER COUNTY

H. J. Newman of the Terry Gold company, reports that a shipment of ore has been made to the Wall Street mill from the Boulder county property of the company. He states that the ore should run $40 to the ton. Considerable development work has been done on this property and Mr. Newman reports that there is a quantity of pay ore in sight. The vein is said to be nearly two feet wide and the shoot has been opened for a distance of about 400 feet.

The Wall Street mill, according to Mr. Newman, is now in shape to handle 100 tons of ore a day, but has a capacity of 150 tons per day. There is a large amount of low grade ore which can be treated at this mill at a profit where heretofore it has been unavailable.

In the criminal division of the district court yesterday Judge Seeds sentenced C. E. Mason to 60 days' imprisonment in the county jail. Mason was charged with having beat his wife. In the same division, Bert Dixon, Eli Johnson, James Buchanan, Sumner McCullough, Clarence Massey and Charles Collins, were ordered to report to Probationary Officer L. H. Rhine. They were all boys, charged with having stolen some small articles from Ben Rattenberg, who conducts a dry goods store on Huerfano street. The thefts occurred February 9, before the juvenile law went into effect, and they were arrested and charged the same as any other criminals. They will be compelled to report regularly to the probationary officer, and will all, under the same rulings now governing the other boys under his care.

In the county court the claim of Mrs. Mary Schoonmaker against the estate of Mary A. Older, in the sum of $50 was allowed. In the suit of Mrs. M. J. Barton and Mrs. Delf Rodgson against Arthur Cornell, a nonsuit was directed against the plaintiffs.

INSPECTION OF ... WATER SYSTEM

A detailed examination of the city water system is being made by City Engineer D. M. Keagy and Water Superintendent J. A. Murphy. Two or three days will be spent on the work, and the Stryker tunnel, Raven Lakes, Lake Moraine and Ruxton creek will be visited. A large quantity of snow in the hills will make the work extremely difficult and the inspection will take longer for that reason. The result of the inspection will be conveyed to the water committee of the city council, which in turn will report the matter to the latter body, possibly at its next meeting.

CIVIL CASES WILL BE SET NEXT ...ONDAY

On next Monday, May 25, at 9 o'clock, in the civil division of the district court, all civil cases which can be tried without the intervention of a jury will be set down for trial at an early date and will probably be tried by Judge Lewis. All such cases, whether yet noticed for trial or not may be set down. No cases will be set on next Monday requiring a jury. It will be the policy of the court at this term at least to set civil matters requiring a jury at one time and those that do not require a jury at another.

STATEMENT OF U. S. REDUCTION CO., AS TO REEMPLOYMENT OF MEN

The United States Reduction & Refining Company, through its Commissioner, Dr. Dan Hawkins, has sent the following statement to the advertising bureau in Denver, detailing what the company has done toward keeping its agreement made at the time the strike was declared off on March 31:

May 18, 1903.

Hon. Charles D. Hayt, Chairman Governor's Advisory Commission, Denver, Colorado.

Sir:—Referring to the labor difficulties at Colorado City regarding which your honorable commission made inquiry sometime since, it appears from the public prints and has come to us from other sources that there is an impression that this company is under obligation to report to you on this date the action which has been taken with reference to the re-employment of men who quit the service of the company on account of the strike occurring in February last. We do not understand that any terms of settlement with reference to this report being made was entered into with the commission, but are pleased to submit for your information and for such use as you may desire to make of it the following statement:

The strike at our works at Colorado City was declared off on the 31st day of March. Since that time there have been 100 applications for employment. Out of this number we have offered employment to 60 of the strikers. Our offer has been accepted by 13 and refused by 47. The detail with reference to these men is as follows:

Twenty-six men who were earning $2.80 were offered work. Fifteen offered $1.80, one accepted; 12 offered $2, one accepted. Total, 27 offered, two accepted.

One man earning $2.40 was offered work. One offered $1.80, no acceptance.

Two men earning $2.60 were offered work. Two offered $2, no acceptance.

One man earning $2.80 was offered work. One offered $2, no acceptance.

Two men earning $3 were offered work. One offered $1.80, no acceptance; one offered $2, no acceptance.

One man earning $3.20 was offered work. One man offered $2.20, one acceptance. Total, 60.

Accepted, 13; refused, 47. Total, 60.

A more detailed analysis will appear hereafter in exhibit D. Of the remaining 42 men who have not been offered re-employment, 19 were not considered eligible. Their names and the reasons given in each instance are shown by exhibit A hereto attached.

Of the remaining 23, nine were refused re-employment for the reasons set forth on exhibit B, and the 14 whose names also appear on exhibit B were not offered re-employment for reasons we do not wish to give at this time and are those repeatedly referred to in conference before the commission where I was stated that there were about 13 men whom we would not re-employ under any conditions. The commission will not fail to note that both Mr. Moyer and Mr. Murphy acquiesced in the particular position of the company and no contention was at any time made regarding it.

In order that detailed information may be placed before you we desire to refer to exhibit C hereto attached which includes the names of all strikers who have applied for work up to and including May 18, 1903, with the date of such application. It will be noted that this only includes the men who made application for work under the general agreement as promised the commission. A number of other men have made application for work but none of them were employed by the company until after the 60 men herein above referred to had been offered work under conditions already stated, with the exception of three men who were inadvertently taken on by the foreman and as soon as it was discovered that they were not among the strikers they were discharged after working two days. This was done to fulfill the engagement made to the commission that the strikers should be first offered employment.

Exhibit D hereto attached sets forth the names of the 60 strikers offered employment, giving the date when they formerly quit the service of the company, the date when they applied for re-employment, the rate per day they were receiving at the time of the strike, the work offered them, the date when such work was offered and the wage per day offered, together with remarks showing the action taken by the applicant in each case.

Exhibit E hereto attached sets forth the names of the strikers who have accepted work, the position of previous employment, the wage per day previously paid, the position offered on reemployment and the rate paid on reemployment, together with remarks on the subsequent action taken.

In selecting places to offer these men we have tried, as far as possible, to take into account both their adaptability to the work and the possibility of openings. The men were not all offered work at the same time, but at different periods extending from April 1 to May 1, allowing the men in each case two days in which to report to work. As we were very desirous of filling the places, such notice to apply for work stated that failure to report will be considered as evidencing they did not wish to return to the service of the company."

Examination of the above will show that 27 of the 60 men were offered places which gave them the same pay they were receiving at the time they struck; 11 were offered more pay than they were getting at the time they struck, and the balance, or 22, were offered less than they were getting at the time of the strike.

The offers of work were made in good faith and were made because we needed men. After we had tried to fill the places in the mill from the former strikers and had been unable to, we put outsiders at work, to the number, up to the present date, of 13. The majority of these 13 last employed are men who have worked for us at previous times in either the Colorado or the Standard plants and are, therefore, old employes.

Some of the strikers who were offered employment did not even report to the place requested to find out what kind of work they were to be offered, and the balance of them, who did report, refused to go to work because the specific employment which was offered to them was not in the exact identical place that they had occupied the day of the strike—February 14. For instance:

Levi Cunningham who, at the time of the strike, was employed as helper on the machine going crawling $2.60 per day, was offered a place as helper in the blacksmith shop, pay $2.00 per day, but refused, saying, "He had money enough to last him three or four months longer and would wait for a job pay ng more money."

A. Mantz, who at that time worked on the coal dam receiving $1.75 per day, and who a few days previous to the strike had applied to his foreman for a job on the outside as general roustabout was offered such a job, but refused to go to work, saying: "I would rather have the outside work to my old job, but I am ordered by the union not to return to any other place than the identical one in which I was employed February 14."

W. H. Clarke said that he wished to return to work, but that the executive committee of the union would not allow him to take any other place than the identical job he occupied at the time of the strike. He said: "I do not think they will gain anything by keeping men from work, but I am going to see the trouble through."

Another man, D. McLellan, who applied for work and accepted it, was called off by the executive committee of the union after he had worked one and one-half hours. He said he was sorry to quit his job, but that he could not accept any other place than the one he had occupied at the time of the strike.

W. H. Wells, just previous to the strike, had been employed as one of the extra gang for roustabout work and on the day of the strike was taking the place of the hopper-man, who happened to be sick that day. This place, of course, was not his, but nevertheless when he was offered work he refused to accept the roustabout work which was offered, and said he would accept nothing but the job on the hoppers—that is one he had occupied on the day of the strike.

The above few instances are sufficient to show the feelings of the men; they have refused to go to work in any other place than that specifically occupied on the day of the strike, regardless of the wages offered.

The places that these men occupied at the time of the strike are now filled by men who came to us at that time and who are doing entirely satisfactory work in every respect. The offers that we made were the best, and in fact the only, jobs available, unless we discharged from our employ the men above referred to, and who, in many instances, were men who had previously worked at the Colorado plant and were thrown out of employment on account of the closing down of that plant on January 31.

The point on taken by some of the

LONDON AMBULANCE SERVICE

Only City in Europe Lacking This Public Need.

One of the most urgent needs of the metropolis is a properly organized and well-equipped municipal ambulance service.

London is the only great European city which is lacking in an effective service of this kind, and there is no European city in which it is wanted more, for, according to the latest returns, there is an average of 800 serious street accidents every week in the year, and of these the police ambulances can only deal with some 200 at the outside.

The Metropolitan Asylums board has a complete horsed-ambulance service in existence, maintained in a high state of efficiency in order to meet sudden outbreaks of infectious disease. Under normal circumstances, however, the service is far larger than the requirements, and the board is accordingly circularizing all the London local authorities on the subject of extending this service for the benefit of the general public.

GRAIN-O
THE PURE
GRAIN COFFEE
Even children drink Grain-O and like it and the doctors say it is good for them. Why not? It contains all of the nourishing qualities of the pure grain, and none of the ... of coffee.
TRY IT TO-DAY.

...n London there is no uniform system for dealing with street accidents; no central authority controlling ambulances and keeping close touch with the hospitals. Even the telephone is unknown as an adjunct to the haphazard systems which exist. Thus the London hospital receives twice the number of accident cases in cabs and carts of those conveyed in our antiquated ambulances. What lives have been lost, what pain and misery inflicted, by the present methods, no one can say.

De Perry, the superintendent of Guy's hospital, says: "It is very painful to watch the arrival of accidents at hospitals under the present system. What London wants are horsed ambulances and a telephone system in connection."

The Metropolitan Asylums board offers six ambulance stations in telephonic communication with the head offices on the Victoria Embankment. These are situated at Somerton, Hampstead, Fulham, Stockwell, New Cross Road, Shooters Hill, and in each station are the most modern carriages, with horses, drivers and nurses ready day and night to proceed at the whip of the telephone to any destination to which they may be called.

To the objections which are urged against using infectious ambulances to ordinary cases it is pointed out that there are only two infectious diseases which might be communicated to a sufferer in a journey to a hospital—small pox and scarlet fever—and special ambulances are retained for those cases, and are disinfected continuously.

In Liverpool and Manchester there are six horsed ambulances under the control of the police. In Birkenhead, Newcastle, Hull, Leeds and many other towns horsed ambulances can be called to any part by means of street telephone call boxes.

In New York a surgeon, with surgical appliances, medicines and so on, accompanies the ambulance to the scene of an accident. In most American towns the pair-horsed ambulances flash through the street like fire engines, and there are always horses ready harnessed and doctors on duty. The average time between the striking of the telephone gong and the departure of the ambulance is 15 seconds.

In Paris are the last horse ambulances of any city in Europe, and its success of chemists' shops telephones have been specially fitted up for accident calls to the ambulance stations, and Vienna, Berlin, St. Petersburg, Mirrow and Warsaw have followed the lead set by the French capital.

It is London alone which in this important matter is 20 years behind the age.—(London Express.)

Aldermanic Case Again Came Up in Court—Illegal Fishing Reported.

Special to the Gazette.

Cripple Creek, May 20.—A special train arrived in the district this morning with one of the most famous military organizations in the world on board, known as the Cleveland Grays.

The party, which numbered 80, was accompanied to the district by Warren Woods of the Woods Investment company of Colorado Springs, who had many friends in the organization. On their arrival here a special train was made up by the electric road management, and the Guardsmen were taken to Victor, where they were guests of the Wycken, being taken through the Gold Coin mine, and by underground railway to the Economic mill and back, after which they came to this city for lunch. The Grays are officered by Capts. F. A. Shupe, First Lieutenant H. W. Stoer and Second Lieutenant A. W. Neal, with about 70 non-commissioned officers and privates. In the party are Major Bigg, Captain Black, Captain Ward, Lieutenant Chumar and Lieutenant Taylor of the famous "Old Guards" of New York.

Aldermanic Cases Again.

Notice was served on the defendants, Mayor Shanley and the Republican aldermen, in the certiorari cases brought by Messrs. Hanley and Schultz this afternoon, through the attorneys for the plaintiffs. The motion will be heard tomorrow afternoon before Judge Cunningham. The motion is made to strike from the files the appeal bond which was given in the sum of $3,000 through Attorney C. C. Butler, one of the attorneys for the defendants. In the motion it is set forth that Mr. Butler did not have any authority to sign the bonds, and that there was no individual or city seal attached to it. This evening in the district court the Grandma cases came up before Judge Cunningham, brought to compel the city council to recognize the two Democratic aldermen, Hanley and Schultz, and the alternative writ was issued by Judge Cunningham, returnable Friday, May 22.

Damage Case.

Attorneys for the Midland Terminal and Colorado Midland today filed a motion to dismiss the action brought by James W. Wade on the ground that no bond was filed.

This is the case wherein Miss Wade has brought suit by her nearest friend, James W. Wade, against the joint roads for $25,000 damages. She claims that she sustained injuries in the wreck that took place near Cascade on June 20, 1902. In her complaint she alleges that she is threatened with curvature of the spine, and may become a hunchback as a result of the accident.

K. D. Bennett Married.

Thomas Lester Bennett, known to his little people as "Kid" Bennett, was quietly married this morning to Miss Pearl Glasgow, by Justice of the Peace C. Harrington. The young couple will remain in this city and will make it their future home.

The mother of the young bride, Mrs. May Glasgow, it will be remembered was burned to death some two weeks ago, while cleaning dress goods with gasoline.

Illegal Fishing.

Many fishing parties have been coming up from the valley towns, and have committed a breach of the game laws of the state by fishing in Four Mile and Beaver creeks. They are likely to pay dearly for their sport.

Game Warden Woodruff has been notified of these depredations and is giving the matter his immediate attention. The warden is also appointing several deputies who will patrol these streams and arrest anyone attempting to fish in them prior to the legal opening of the season, which is Monday, June 1.

Dispute Over Moyer.

A large crowd assembled at the depot to see if Edward G. Howell would arrive this afternoon in charge of Sheriff Robertson. However, he did not come on either train and it is understood there is some dispute between Sheriff Robertson and the federal authorities as to who would have the prisoner. The chances are that he will be taken to Pueblo and confined there.

Interest Coupons.

Deputy County Treasurer Gus Trolich was this morning canceling interest coupons on $115,000 first district bonds. The interest coupons amounted to $3,360 for the regular semi-annual payment. The coupons are payable in New York city to Kounts Brothers, bankers, and the interest was due on May 1, which was paid, and the coupons handed over today.

Delegate Elected.

The Cripple Creek Newswriters union held a meeting tonight and decided on Charles F. Wilson as their representative as a delegate to the International Typographical union convention, which is held in Washington, D. C., August 30 of this year.

Miss Little Swords and Mr. Joseph Lutz Wedded at the Catholic Church Yesterday.

Special to the Gazette.

Victor, May 20.—At one o'clock this afternoon Miss Kitty Swords and Mr. Joseph Lutz were united in marriage at the Catholic church in Goldfield. Only a few personal friends and relatives witnessed the ceremony. After the marriage was over the couple returned to the home of the bride's parents, where an elegant wedding dinner was served. The young couple expect to make their home in this city.

John Wassel's Funeral.

The funeral of John Wassel was held from the Catholic church this morning at 10 o'clock, Father Downey delivering the funeral oration. Interment was made at Sunnyside cemetery. Members of Miners union No. 32, of which deceased was a member, attended in a body, accompanying the body to its last resting place.

Wilson's Narrow Escape.

George Wilson, who resides near the Santa Rita mine, had a very narrow escape from death. While riding in a buggy in crossing the tracks a car struck the horse and vehicle, bruising the horse and demolishing the buggy, throwing Mr. Wilson out with such force that he was internally injured. He is confined to his bed in this city.

Funeral of E. Walsh.

The funeral of E. Walsh took place this afternoon from the new Catholic church, Father Downey officiating. The services were held under the auspices of the local lodge of Eagles. Interment was made at Sunnyside cemetery.

Improving.

The Goldsworthy boys who were severely injured by the premature explosion that killed Sam Underwood a week ago on the Mercer lease of the Free Coinage company are still confined in the hospital in this city, but are improving nicely. The attending physicians announced this morning that the sight of both of the men will be saved.

School Banquet.

At the Engineers hall the junior class of the Victor High school gave the senior class of the same school an elegant banquet, which passed off very pleasantly, a number of the teachers of the district being invited.

THE GRAND JURY.

THE REPORT of the grand jury is worthy of careful [illegible]. No similar body in recent years has been so diligent, painstaking and fearless. It says its work incomplete, for lack of time, but the work which it has done merits the cordial commendation voiced by Judge Cunningham at the close of the term of court.

Judge Cunningham also has rendered signal service to the community by deferring the call of a grand jury until after the spring election, so as to eliminate partisanship and the ephemeral effect which its disclosures might have upon candidates for office. Its report comes in the midst after political conflict, and it comes as a crushing [illegible], one of the maladies from which this city and our sister city have suffered.

The storekeeper has been conducting his office without any books, "with scarcely any order or business methods," and "the money of the people has unquestionably been wasted." It recommends that he keep books, keys and accounts," and that the practice of "aldermen borrowing or taking at their pleasure the property and supplies of the city for their own personal use, as some of them have been [illegible], be discontinued."

The late city treasurer has been keeping his books "as the divil wint through Athlone in standin' saison"—to quote Mr. Mulvany. He has touched earth about once a month, and in the interval the whole of the city's cash balance might have been in his vest pocket or out at interest for all that anybody knew.

Just before the last November election he drew one thousand dollars from the city funds, which he himself says he was to return during November, but can not show when or how it was returned.

The jury recommends that the city's accounts as to supplies and the like be looked after with "greater diligence."

The police management has been deficient. "Citizens and tourists have been habitually plundered and robbed" with the connivance and "protection" of some of the police.

Rooming houses in Colorado Springs, well known to be houses of assignation, "could be corrected by proper vigilance" of the police.

Colorado City has been protecting an infamous trade and making money out of it, in a mockery of the forms of law.

These are not catch words from the vaporings of "yellow" journals. They are the sober conclusions of 12 of our citizens, selected by lot, based on the evidence produced before them.

The report points out an ample field for the activities of our new mayor and council, and the people are waiting for the results they expect will follow.

THE DURANGO WAR.

THE DURANGO newspaper editors' war is the natural result of the language employed by these newspaper men in speaking of each other for months past. Durango has had personal journalism with a vengeance. Scarcely an issue of the papers has appeared in the last few months in which one newspaper owner has not flickguarded another, and for several weeks past it has seemed to be only a question of time until the men got to the fighting point.

It is very certain that the people of Durango, and especially the women of Durango, do not care for these grossnesses in journalism. Newspaper subscribers in Colorado Springs, as well as all other cities, are averse to that sort of thing.

Newspaper owners and editors often make the mistake of thinking that their personal quarrels are a matter of deep interest to the public. Quite the contrary is the case. The people pay for news and comment on the news, and not for the personal contentions of the individuals within the newspaper offices.

A. Y. M. C. A. CONTEST.

A NOVEL contest is now going forward among the Y. M. C. A. men of this city. Two teams have been picked out, both composed of aggressive as well as persuasive young men, and each is to make a vigorous effort to surpass the other in securing new members for the institution. The directors of the association recognize that increased membership will not only be financially valuable, but every new member will be a committee of one to say a good word for the association and possibly secure one or more members himself. That the idea is a good one is evidenced by the fact that although the plan has only been in operation about one week, over 150 new members have already been secured. It is to be hoped that the "teams" will not slacken their efforts until at least 500 new members have been added to the rolls.

A LITERARY SUBTERFUGE.

AN INTERESTING recent literary development is in connection with "The Journal of Arthur Stirling." This journal purported to be the life story of a struggling young author whose talents had not been recognized and who finally wrote the story of his experiences, sent it to a publisher and thereupon committed suicide.

A great many reviewers were inclined to be skeptical as to the untimely end of the struggler in quest of fame. It now appears that their suspicions have been verified, for the author of the book, Upton Sinclair, has written an article for the Independent, in which he makes a confession of the subterfuge employed by him. He says that he has received a sufficient amount of money through the sale of the book to enable him to pursue the literary career for which he thinks he is especially fitted. One of the [illegible] about his article is the fact that [illegible] "a personality in literature," [illegible] result to find a more potent plan [illegible] which he adopted in getting [illegible] Before [illegible] author [illegible] day, and One they were a [illegible] ing a home for [illegible] few of them can it [illegible] of having been driven to [illegible] the public needs not [illegible] about style.

THE PENNSYLVANIA railroad gained a decisive victory on [illegible] in its suit against the Western Union Telegraph company. Incidentally it was another evidence of how [illegible] minds often disagree, for the case was first decided in favor of the Pennsylvania company, then against it, and once more in its favor.

The decision is of far-reaching importance to the telegraph company. Under a 20-year contract it had maintained its poles and wires along the right of way of the Pennsylvania company. When the contract expired, the Pennsylvania did not propose to renew it, but intended to do business with the Postal. Railroad differences were at the bottom of the fight. The Pennsylvania being at odds with George Gould and his railroads, did not propose to do business with George Gould's telegraph company.

The Western Union company was naturally very much averse to removing the vast amount of property which it owned along this line of railway. The Pennsylvania, however, fought the case as far as the United States court of appeals, where it gained a complete and sweeping victory.

President Palma of Cuba will veto the lottery bill, but there is danger that his veto will be overridden by the Cuban assembly. Palma has been so long in the United States that he takes the generally accepted view that a lottery is a menace to any people, and that instead of being endued it should be banished. It is quite evident, however, that the somewhat loose views upon the subject which prevail in tropical countries are very much in evidence in Cuba.

The Grand Junction farmers candidly admit that the fruit will not be injured by the frost, and declare that prospects were never better for an enormous crop of peaches. They haven't yet learned the New Jersey scheme of announcing a failure in order to put up the price.

England has decided to follow the lead of the United States and take the Boxer indemnity upon a silver basis. It will be a good thing for the Chinese and not a bad thing for England. Now let us see what Kaiser Wilhelm is going to do about it.

Day after day the reports made in the Corey case say the "shortage is being increased." Let us fervently hope that the expert accountant may soon conclude his labors that we may know the worst.

Thirteen hundred slot machines were burned in Philadelphia yesterday by order of the director of public safety. This was one of the few conflagrations that the people of the city could heartily enjoy.

With some heat, the officials who have been accused in Washington declare that the charges are "absurdly false." They may be false, but clearly they are not absurd.

THE APPEAL TO THE MILLINERS.

The success of the Audubon society in inducing the New York milliners not to use song birds for decorative purposes is a matter of congratulation. But it would look less like barbarism if birds of all kinds were covered in the agreement. The ingenuity of the milliner artists could not be better employed than in devising modes of ornament not involving the killing of life.—(Chicago Post.

ONE WAY TO SETTLE THE QUESTION.

Grover Cleveland is, of course, not a candidate. In the usual sense of the term, but if the Democratic nomination for president should get in his way he might pick it up, even against the protest of Hon. William J. Bryan. Then what would Mr. Bryan do about it? It might come to a question as to who is running the Democratic party, anyhow. Such a position might hasten the assertion of the majesty of the party organization.—(Cincinnati Enquirer, Dem.

ROOSEVELT'S HOLD ON PUBLIC OFFICE.

President Roosevelt, as is well known, has scarcely been out of public office for so long a time as a month, since the date of his graduation from Harvard college. He has been successively assemblyman at Albany, United States civil service commissioner, police commissioner in New York city, assistant secretary of the navy, governor of New York and vice president. He wanted to be mayor of New York city and was nominated by the Republicans, but was defeated by Abram S. Hewitt. There is no other man in public life who has held so many different offices in so short a time. It was a great joke, therefore, for President Wilson of Princeton university to tell his audience in Chicago the other day that Roosevelt had succeeded because he was a politician who did not want to hold office.—(Hartford Times, Dem.

PAYMENT FOR THE PANAMA CANAL.

Just now an interesting piece of treasury finance in the payment for the Panama canal and the raising of the money to complete it. So soon as Colombia ratifies treaty our government will have to pay ten million dollars to her, and 40 million dollars to France. The sudden withdrawal of this amount of gold from the country would be a serious financial shock, as the money must be paid on demand. Several treasury warrants will be made out, reciting that the treasurer of the United States to pay the proper persons 50 million dollars. The holders of these warrants will then draw over to their New York bankers, who in turn will draw bills of exchange on London banks, and eventually it is probable that the 50 million dollars will be paid by the export of American goods to Europe, without the shipment of one ounce of gold. The 20 million dollars paid Spain for the Philippines found its way to Madrid in the way without disturbing international finance.—(From "Financing a Nation," in June Success.

NEW THIRD-TERM CLAWS.

There are signs of a twinkle in the eye of Mr. Cleveland's eye as he talks about the third-term proposition. "If the nomination were tendered me I cannot answer whether I would accept. I would simply be acting, perhaps the censure of the people," Consults for what "we consulting" is to be a candidate, or for declining to be one? It looks as if Mr. Cleveland were setting a coon trap of the regulation darker order—"set kotch 'im a-goin' and a-comin'."

Meantime ex-Governor Foster of Ohio, who is fishing from the same boat with the ex-president, arises to remark.

"I am not authorized to speak, but, without betraying a confidence, I can say that Mr. Cleveland does not desire the Democratic presidential nomination; but he would no doubt take it as a duty to the party which has twice honored him with that great office. To my mind he deserves the nomination, and he has the confidence of the people."

This being Republican testimony may be looked upon with suspicion. We regret to have to record that one quite enthusiastic third-term boomer, Mr. Mack of New York state, has received a chill of some sort and is now sitting on the inquirer's bench.—(New York Commercial Advertiser, Rep.

"SENSATIONAL SCIENCE."

Dr. Arthur McDonald, the criminologist attached to the United States bureau of education at Washington, may have done nothing of scientific value, but he knows the value of sensational science. He can cause thrills and shudders, and as an eccentric theorist he has no equal. His latest announcement is that automobiles, telephones, electric cars and other inventions, by relaxing the physical strain on human beings and allowing them more time to think, are responsible for the increase in crime, suicide and various forms of abnormality. The weakness of the theory lies in a lack of proof of this increase. Investigation that is made searching and records are more carefully and are practically kept than formerly, but this age compares favorably with any past age. In fact, considering the incentives to crime, the increase of wealth, the growing fluidity of population, and the possibility of hiding in a crowd, this is an age of comparative quiet. It is true there are crimes, atrocious crimes, but neither this scientist nor any other scientist can point to any period when there was not. Mr. McDonald also advances the statement that you must "eat meat and potatoes or you may become a criminal." The serious sober Hard-Working Vegetarian may either treasure indignant at this or he may retort that if you do eat meat and potatoes you may become a criminal. [illegible] statement is as at [illegible] as it is [illegible] usual.—(Worcester Telegram.
